JAP MINISTER SEES TROUBLE WITH AMERICA RUM RUNNERS BLOW UP RAIDING PARSON'S CHURCH

MINISTER AWAY AND NONE IS INJURED IN BLAST

JOLIET, Ill., July 11.—"Speak easy" proprietors and rum runners took their revenge early today on the Rev. Henry E. Hompel, "three gun parson," who has been a leader of recent dry raids, when they blew out the rear end of his church with a charge of dynamite. Nearly every plate glass window in the business district was broken by the blast, which was felt for miles around.

The dynamite was placed under part of the church which has been used as a parsonage, but since Hompel was out of the city no one was injured.

The raiding parson first achieved fame last December when he led 20 prohibition agents on a raid of ten Joliet saloons. Later he went out at the head of raiding parties aimed at putting out of business road houses and illicit liquor dealers in the neighboring county.

Galveston Ruben Fastest In State

HOUSTON, Texas, July 11.—Five minutes has been cut from the running schedule of interurban trains between here and Galveston, bringing the running time down to 75 minutes for the 50 miles. The old schedule of 80 minutes was already spacier than any 50 mile interurban service in the country. C. A. Brann, traffic chief for the Galveston-Houston Electric Railway Company says.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero: Ruben Benton, whose pitching and batting was responsible for the Reds win over the Phils, 2 to 1.

The Braves got an early lead over the Pirates and Barnes just managed to stall off an attempted rally, Boston winning, 5 to 3.

Cleveland came from behind and scored 3 runs in the eighth to beat the Athletics 4 to 3.

Unlimbering some heavy artillery the Cubs had a field day, taking both ends of a double bill from the Robins, 9 to 5 and 10 to 3.

Washington dropped the first game of a double header to Detroit, 12 to 10 in 13 innings, and dropped to a tie for first place. The second game went only five innings to a 3 to 3 tie.

Despite homers by Frick and Wilson in the eighth, the Giants lost to the Cardinals, 5 to 4. Dickman's twirling being most effective.

The Yanks won twice from the White Sox, 6 to 1 and 13 to 5 and went into a tie for the league leadership with Washington. The Babe hit his 23rd homer.

Lee Fohl's Red Sox made it three straight from the Browns, thanks to Fullerton's excellent pitching. Wamley's batting was another feature. Score, 8 to 2.

He did not have a ticket when he reached Madison Square but approached the Press entrance. He was asked what paper he represented. He replied "Texas," and went on in. It was easy for a New Yorker or an Al Smith enthusiast to get a good seat inside but many traveled almost across the continent as guests and

DOCTORS TO TAKE STAND IN CASE AGAINST BOY MURDERERS

CHICAGO, July 11.—Doctors and attorneys for the millionaire Leopold and Loeb families—retained in an attempt to save their sons from hanging for the murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks—today started translation of medical findings into language which will be understood by a jury.

One of the youthful murderers is suffering from infected "basal ganglia" and the other has a diseased "adrenal cortex," according to the doctors' findings. These terms and hundreds of others must be explained that a jury will understand that Leopold and Loeb were not responsible when they killed the Franks boy, according to Clarence Darrow, chief defense counsel.

Out of the large array of doctors who have examined the two confessed murderers no more than five or six will be placed on the witness stand, Darrow indicated. These will be selected for their eminence in their profession in order to "carry more weight."

While the defense was plotting its case—a plan that young Leopold Loeb, though profound scholars, were really insane—attorneys for the State were preparing their arguments for a conviction.

"These young men have committed Chicago's direst crime," Robert E. Crowe, State's attorney, said. "We have a hanging case against them and we will spare no time or effort to see that they pay the penalty."

"I understand that the defense will seek to prove the defendants insane. To this argument we can answer the testimony of four of Chicago's most eminent alienists, which I am sure will indicate that the boys are perfectly sane."

Arguments for quashing of indictments and delay of the trial—now set for Aug. 4—will be heard in criminal court before Judge John R. Caverly on July 21. At that time, Darrow is expected to ask that the young murderers be given an insanity hearing instead of a criminal trial.

Troops loyal to the present regime made more than 700 arrests at Varna and elsewhere.

Much of the fighting between the agrarians, communists, Republicans and Government forces, appears to have been of a rough and tumble variety, but reports of numerous casualties indicate the troops were forced to use their arms.

NEW WAY MUST BE FOUND HE SAYS BEFORE LEAVING

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Leaving Washington today, Masanao Hanihara, retiring Japanese Ambassador here returns to his country convinced that a more satisfactory disposition of the Japanese immigration question must be arranged if trouble is to be avoided between the two countries.

Hanihara is not making any statement for publication but the seriousness with which the Japanese people regard the new American exclusion law is shown by the fact that the Ambassador is understood to believe that although the outward anti-American demonstrations in his country soon will end such a feeling on the part of the Japanese will continue under the surface.

Hanihara leaves Washington later today. He goes direct to San Francisco where he will sail for Japan on board the Korea July 18.

Officially it is said that Hanihara has not yet resigned as Ambassador and that he is returning to Japan on leave. However, the understanding here is that he probably will not return to Washington as Ambassador.

The future course of Japan in dealing with the American question is expected to be decided after conferences between Hanihara and the Tokyo Government. It is believed doubtful that any further important step will be taken by Japan before the elections in this country but there is every indication that Japan does not regard the question as a closed incident.

The American Government does regard the question as closed, showing what opposite attitudes are now maintained by the two countries on this one disturbing factor between the two nations.

HERE IS THE EFFECT OF ORGANIZATION

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 11.—The extent to which theatres have mastered crowd psychology was given an unexpected test at the Earle Theatre here when, with the house filled, the lighting system failed, leaving the audience in total darkness. To add to the vividness of the occasion the electrically driven pipe organ ceased playing with a long drawn wail.

Here's How It Happened

The Inside Story of the National Democratic Convention.

By A. GARLAND ADAIR
Managing Editor of The Mexia Daily News

NUMBER 1.

The Democratic convention just closed was no love feast.

In its deliberations, it pounced with the viciousness of an ancient foe upon the Republican party. Then encouraged by friends and foes, within and without, democrats turned on each other and as a result, the democratic party is today limping home badly crippled and with scars that will remain long after the idea of November.

Fires of prejudice and hatred were let loose upon the convention which will spread until the entire nation will know of that which transpired to the dishonor of the party at Madison Square Garden during the past three weeks.

Never has the party of the people, for the people and by the people passed through such a siege as that just closed in Gotham. Never were its own ranks so badly disorganized by distrust and division. Never were the representatives to a party convention so much at odds with would-be leaders, who, self appointed, as far as the party was concerned, stirred up strife and prevented that harmony which would have enabled the Democrats of the Nation, this coming November, to have wrested the government from the greedy hands of the privileged few and returned it to those who foster "good will to all men" and enmity and malice toward none.

Ultimately a good man was chosen as standard bearer. Because of the record racks within the party, wounded deeply by a prolonged experience in New York, John Davis may not win the Presidency but he should.

In his keynote speech, Pat Harrison declared that the convention was to be no cold storage affair. He spoke prophetically but little did he, or any one else, believe that he would see the political pot boil so furiously and so continuously at the convention, then convening.

Regardless of what many may say and what all good Democrats would like to believe, there is today bitter division in the party, the so-called unmaned love feast of Wednesday night to the contrary notwithstanding.

Between two elements of the people's party, at New York recently, there appeared a deep, wide and insurmountable gulf. These conflicting divisions are as divergent on several primary subjects, as are contending parties even on primary party principles.

More and more, in the state over which Al Smith presides and throughout the convention period, it became apparent that the life of the party was threatened by the internal irreconcilable conflicts between prohibition and the liquor power.

There were other forces than those of liquor opposed to Mr. McAdoo, just as there were others than prohibitionists opposed to Mr. Smith. But the main division in the party, there then, here and now, is along the lines of wet and dry.

And James of Ohio and Harry Hawes of Missouri, who led the fight on William Gibbs McAdoo, are nationally famed as liquor lawyers.

Messrs. Cook and Lewis, co-workers with them and noted for similar relations with violators of the Eighteenth amendment, completed a quartet of professional wets who would rather win their cases and see their party defeated than to permit a sincere, militant prohibitionist and constitutionalist elected President of the United States. They were Democrats bought and paid for professionally rather than democrats from principle. Such detestable tribes truly belong to what is known in New York as "Tammany Braves," which from what was recently seen in the convention city should be known as "Bowery Brays" instead. They are above all and under all, Antis, first, last and all the time, as long at least as the pay roll is met promptly. Showing more disregard of party and national patriotism, their real hopes and intentions were skillfully disguised under the guise of attacking the Ku Klux Klan.

They knew that the Klan was a subject, though not fundamentally a party issue, which could be brought up and which would divide the convention closely and bring about the nomination of any man but McAdoo. In this they knew they had the financial backing in their fight against McAdoo of Wall Street. They figured that if all the liquor forces could be united in an attack on the Ku Klux Klan, which should be easy since the order had been attacking the liquor traffic through co-operation with the Anti Saloon League, together with all others of various races and creeds opposed to the Klan, that a machine could be built up which would block the offense of Mr. McAdoo at every turn.

Battling on their own ground and with weapons of their own choice and selection, they did beat Mr. McAdoo. Al Smith simply permitted himself to be used as a tool in the hands of the wets and Wall Street interests to accomplish the end. His sole purpose was to defeat McAdoo. Almost every public utterance proved this. He declared that they were prepared to "fight it out along these lines all summer if necessary."

The first signal success of the carefully conceived campaign, occurred when New York was selected as the Convention City.

Tom Ryan of New York and Virginia was one of the powers behind the invisible throne, who assisted in formulating the plan. He compelled the signing of the Convention on to New York City, Ryan is as well in principle as Tom Taggart admits himself to be in practice.

The McAdoo forces fought to the bitter end. They fought for a man for President whom they knew would enforce the Constitution, all its amendments and the bill of rights, fighting for the ideals of the farms, the homes in our small towns and for the convictions which animate the good mass of the American people.

The voice of the democracy of the Democratic States of the Nation applauded efforts to nominate Mr. McAdoo. The West, Northwest, parts of the Middle West and almost solid South clamored for him as the proper leader for the party in November. In an enemies' arena, surrounded by rack-ridden Republican States; within ear shot of Wall Street and other financial forces, Mr. McAdoo lost but Mr. Smith did not win.

The delegates to the convention are now returning to the people who form the party, challenging them to save their country from a return to saloon and racial interests misrule and saying to them "To you from falling hands we fling the torch, hold it high, hold it high, keep the faith, keep the faith."

Mrs. H. P. White of Houston is here on a most pleasant visit in the home of her sister, Mrs. H. C. Freeman. Mrs. White was formerly Miss Vivian Wynn of Huntsville and as such known to quite a few of this place.

FIREWORKS DISPLAY AT PLAY GROUNDS THURSDAY NIGHT BEAUTIFUL

Thursday night at the Playgrounds on Jack's Creek was a fire works display that would have done credit to a city much larger than Mexia. It was the postponed July 4th celebration that Mr. Cobb had arranged for the Nation's natal day but on account of rain he let it be known that he would give the full celebration program the night of the 10 and so he did.

With the big silver moon hanging on high the water full of bathers in vari-colored bathing suits with the lights over the water and the shrill laugh of glee the fire works placed just across on the bluff overlooking the water gave a carnival air and spirit to the occasion that made it quite enjoyable to all present.

Besides many bathers the bath house gallery and steps was lined with many strollers. Judging from the number of cars parked near the pavillion there must have been over a thousand people on hand. In fact the "traffic jam" was so "jammed" that it was some time before early comers could get their cars out of the space. This is a paradise for this part of the state and a pleasure resort that any section of the country might well be proud. There were many strangers on hand showing that Mexia's Playgrounds is well advertised and she invites all from far and near to spend the hot evenings on the Banks of the River that Golden Lane made famous. The display was on a large scale and the aerial bombs with sprays and rockets gave an exhibition that many had not seen before. The fine new road to Mexia was lined with cars going and coming till late and from the interest so far taken in the Playgrounds Mexia will be a mecca this summer for many that haven't the chance to go to sea shore or mountain resorts. It is a place we should well feel proud of any enjoy at every opportunity. The grounds and concessions are well kept and furnishes a clean wholesome resort that will be a boon to many in this section. Mexia is proud to have such a place to invite her guests and strangers and make them feel that all the pleasures are not confined to the larger cities.

BAPTIST MINISTER GIVES TANLAC FULL CREDIT

No greater praise can be accorded a medicine than the voluntary testimony of a minister of the gospel. The preacher's high calling puts a grave responsibility on his every word, and he will not jeopardize his reputation by commending a thing without first assuring himself it is all right.

Tanlac has been endorsed by numbers of prominent ministers. They have put Tanlac to the test of personal service and their words carry conviction because they say what they know to be the truth.

One of the latest to speak out in behalf of Tanlac is Rev. B. E. Bell, a retired Baptist minister, 207 Elm St., San Antonio, Texas, who says: "Before taking Tanlac I had suffered from stomach and nerve troubles for over 30 years and there were times when my condition was such that it required almost superhuman effort for me to prepare my sermons and go through with my Sunday services. Indeed, my work seemed like some great obstacle across my pathway—a burden too big to carry in my weak physical condition."

"But in six weeks' time Tanlac transformed my entire outlook, giving me what seemed like a new set of nerves and a brand new digestive system. My appetite became ravenous, my nerves steady, my liver action regular and I could sleep sound for the first time in years. Whenever I have the slightest symptom of trouble now I always resort to Tanlac, am taking some at present, and it never fails to smooth things out for me. I certainly have the best of reasons for feeling grateful to Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Nevada Town Same As It Was In '49

ROUGH FRONTIERSMEN MUCH
AS THEY WERE IN PIONEER
DAYS OF GOLD RUSH

ELY, Nevada, July 10.—Still clinging to the style of the Western mining camp of fifty years ago, this little town, perched in the mountains of Eastern Nevada, has changed very little from the time it was founded. With the exception of the automobile things are much as they were in the early seventies. Saloon signs still swing over the wooden side walks. Ostensibly they serve only soft drinks inside, but it is said that real "likker" can still be obtained over the glistening mahogany bars. It is one of the very few towns in the United States where legalized vice remains. Almost every form of gambling—poker, roulette, twenty-one, panguine and even baccarat—is played.

Gayly lighted dance halls flourish and painted Magdalens attempt to entice the passer-by with coy smiles and honeyed words. It is no uncommon thing for a gun fight to ensue between a "buckaroo," just off the range, and a grizzled miner, smelling of earth, over the caime smile of a dance hall queen.

Until very recently, when a squad of prohibition enforcement officers swooped into Ely for the purpose of "cleaning up the town," it is said that certain people boasted of the quality of the locally brewed beer one could purchase here. There was a "home brew trust" and a beer produced had to pass a chemical test of high degree before it was permitted to be put on the market. The independent brewer would no sooner start than his product would be declared inferior and he would be forced out of business.

PARIS, July 10.—In spite of the very gay colors that are brightening Paris this season, fashion dictators are showing many black and white combinations. In fact, a recent Russian fete has been jokingly called the "magpie affair," so very numerous were the gowns of this order.

Madame Ytch, a Russian, who is one of Paris' most famous designers, set the fashion by wearing a black satin gown, with an overskirt of white lace. Another smart black and white affair was a Chanel model, and worn by a Russian countess. It was in black crepe de chine, with a black and white crepe scarf and long black coat, with a gilet of black and white pointed crepe. The same scheme was carried out in the black Bangkok hat, with two white roses at the side. Nicole Groult is showing a delightful three-piece costume in cream silk alpaca, which is much used by the house. With it comes a black silk coat, lined with white and deep band of black and white embroidery done in cross-stitch on fine toile.

Still another model is in white silk alpaca, with a black silk coat, embroidered in Chinese design in white. A white silk alpaca coat-frock has a light trimming of black and silver braid, and a black and white flowered crepeage has curious black mitten sleeves.

An Ytch model has a foundation of black crepe de chine, with a touch of black and white crepe painted in a design of irregular circles. With it goes a black parasol, lined with white, and a black straw hat showing the new high crown, with black and white aigrettes at the side.

Entered as second-class matter, February 26, 1919, at the Postoffice at Mexia, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

“For Mexia, I WILL”

Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself.—Luke 10:27.

When Jimmie Cox showed up at the convention last Monday it was said that he had come to do his bit in breaking the deadlock. And he did.

The next thing now is to get together, stay together, pull together, and win together. Forget the hard things said at the convention, and remember that the wicked republicans are just as wicked now as they were a month ago. “Drive the rascals out”.

Governor Neff is back at his desk in the capitol laughing in his sleeve at the way his theory of uninstructed delegations was finally proven correct. He says if the delegations had all been foot-loose a nomination could have been made on the third instead of the 103rd ballot and thus saved several days hard work for the convention. And the governor is also satisfied with the nominee, whom he regards as a great big man, capable of leading the party to victory at the polls.

UP TO NOW

“Have you a radio?” has until recently been a query similar to “have you a talking machine?” or “have you a player piano?”

But in a very short time, asking a man if he has a radio will be as rude as asking him if he possesses a bathtub, or a telephone, or a clean shirt.

The Cleveland and New York conventions have, for the first time, been participated in by millions of voters. True, the participation was vicarious; the unseen audience was a silent one, but it was an intent one. And the educational result of millions of people having listened directly to the great leaders of both parties discussing questions of national importance, unquestionably will be felt in November.

The newspapers, of course, carry full reports. But few people read all the newspaper has to say. The newspaper offers a choice of interesting news, politics, and prize fights, baseball and battle, prehistoric discovery and prohibition donigs bid for attention.

Listeners in take what they get. Their's not to choose; their's but to sit silent and absorb what is “in the air”. There is usually choice of entertainment, but what greater entertainment is there than the making of history, the nominations, the balloting; not next day, cold in type, but now, this instant, heard in the home as soon as spoken in the convention?

We are having a political rebirth. We are knowing where formerly we guessed. Just what the radio is to mean in citizenship training is only faintly foreshadowed, but already it seems so big and so important that soon, for one to confess he is “not interested in radio” will be much the same as saying, “I am not interested in books.”

labor union and the Associated Press. So might Davis' life work be hastily sketched over. It seems he is just one of the sort about whom folks begin saying he has “great ability” or is “brilliant” naturally. It might even be mentioned that his fellow lawyers some time back elected him president of the American Bar Association.

More persons know Davis by reputation than they do personally. That is one weak spot in his presidential boomlet. He has a host of long range admirers. But his general party acquaintance is rather slight and confined to the so-called upper stratum, or leader class. His name carries no heart-tug to the workers down in the trenches and his many virtues would have to be made known to great sections of the country, especially the agricultural middle west. For his life work and activities have been confined almost entirely to “Down East.”

Those who do know John W. Davis personally like him and become life members of the admiration society that somehow always surrounds him. About six feet tall, 51 years old, with hair that is silvery, he has an appearance that can best be described by that hackneyed phrase, “Distinguished.” In short, he looks the part. He is a clever conversationalist, witty at repartee, and a good after dinner speaker. Despite all the adulation thrust upon him he is not the upstage sort, although he probably has a fair estimation of his own worth.

The sort of thing that Davis believes in, his creed of life, largely has to be drawn from his public speeches, of which he has made many, for he is probably more in demand as a democratic orator than any other man in the east. The last 10 years or so he has been either in appointive office or the practice of law, so his legislative commitments are archaic in this fast moving day and age. The big charge leveled against him politically is that he is a corporation lawyer. He is, was and has been for a long time. He doesn't deny it. He also has represented Mother Jones and Eugene Debs.

Hill County Official Gets Seven Years

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, July 11.—E. F. Stovall of Abbott, Hill county, was found guilty on a charge of accepting a bribe of $7,000 in connection with the letting of road contracts amounting to $904,000 in Hill County in 1920. A jury in District Judge W. L. Harding's court here Thursday assessed a sentence of seven years in the State penitentiary after deliberation lasting an hour and ten minutes.

Mr. Stovall was tried once before on the same charge in Hill county and at that time was sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. The defense then succeeded in having the case transferred to Ellis county.

Considerable interest has been manifested in the case by people in Central Texas. Fair-sized crowds have heard the taking of testimony and the argument of the attorneys. Will A. Martin, County Attorney of Hill county, opened argument for the State and was followed by Mr. Collins of the defense. J. E. Clark, Assistant District Attorney of Hill County, closed the case for the State and A. M. Frazier closed for the defense.

MAN HAS ANTHRAX

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 11.—Plans are being made to combat the spread of anthrax among cattle in this county. There are approximately 200 cases of the disease now. The disease can be communicated to humans and one man in Port Neches is believed to have caught it. Death usually results to persons who contract the disease.

TEXAS GOING OUT OF LAND BUSINESS

AUSTIN, Texas, July 11.—Texas is to sell its last large tract of land on September 2, according to Land Commissioner Robinson who set the date for the sale. The tract comprises 57,000 in Dallam and Hartley counties and, according to Robinson is the last large body of land Texas will ever have for sale. One person may buy not to exceed 5210 acres of the land.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE NOMINEE

(Waco Times-Herald)

Davis' greatness has become almost a legend, so much so that when a man sets out to discover upon what it is founded, even some of those who are loudest in singing his praises are a bit shy on detail in filling in the canvas. It seems that Davis has been one of the unusual type. He stands out in about everything he tackled. He was the most prominent lawyer of his home town Clarkburg, W. Va., a few years after he started in practice. He was party leader in the legislature at 25. He was the most prominent lawyer of his state. He came to congress, and in the house soon was lifted above the common level of mediocrity, which generally is the fate of members for a good many years. He became solicitor general of the United States and happened to have some of the biggest cases of recent years to argue before the supreme court.

Then he was sent to Europe to the court of St. James as ambassador by Woodrow Wilson, and came home with many calling him a “great ambassador.” He went into the practice of law in New York with one of the oldest firms there—Grover Cleveland Clarkburg, W. Va., a few years after he started in practice. He was party leader in the legislature at 25. He was the most prominent lawyer of his state. He came to congress, and in the house soon was lifted above the common level of

DEMOCRATIC PARTY REUNITED NOW FACE THE COUNTRY

By PAUL R. MALLON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 10.—Discordant forces of the Democratic party which fought bitterly for more than two weeks were called together today to plan a united campaign for John W. Davis and Charles W. Bryan, the nominees who emerged victorious from the unprecedented struggle.

The National Committee met in the Waldorf hotel here to reorganize behind its newly chosen leaders and soothe the sores that were opened in the 16-day convention.

Davis himself extended the olive branch to the leaders who had fought him and in his first pronouncements after his nomination called upon the party to unite.

The ascension of the brother of William J. Bryan to second place on the new Democratic national ticket was planned to close the rift between the Commoner and Davis. Religious differences which were so bitterly fought out were hidden behind the veil of the past and all the unsuccessful candidates gave assurances in varying degrees of co-operation.

Al Smith, who was not permitted to address the convention as a candidate, but who came before it as Governor of New York, after being defeated, was the first to extend his promise of support to his victor.

"I shall take off my coat and vest, and so will everybody who follows me in the party in this State and do what I can to elect the ticket coming from this convention," Smith said.

McAdoo, the other unsuccessful leading candidate, was less enthusiastic, and at first reserved comment on the selection of Davis. But later, his close friends let it be known that he would not attempt to hurl any monkey wrench into the new machine.

Aligned with McAdoo was William J. Bryan, who bitterly fought Davis as "a force of reaction." Boomed in every speech he made from the platform, defeated overwhelmingly in his fight on what he chose to call the "reactionaries," Bryan "had nothing to say" after the nomination.

But the choosing of his brother, the Governor of Nebraska, for the vice presidential nomination, stifled any objection which his silence might have inferred. The selection of the younger brother is said to have been made at the instance of Davis himself and is considered a strong indication of how far Davis intends to go to bring to his support the dissatisfied McAdoo-Bryan elements.

Frank L. Polk, who led the pre-convention campaign for Davis, is expected to succeed Cordell Hull as chairman of the National Committee. Hull has been in poor health and is ready to retire. It is the usual custom for the campaign manager of the successful candidate to succeed to the chairmanship of the committee which will have charge of the election campaign.

Davis' campaign plans have not yet been made. His friends, however, say that he will make a vigorous active campaign, perhaps touring the entire country before the polls open in November. He is staying now at the Polk home just off Fifth avenue here, but he intends to leave the city Saturday for some unannounced destination, probably his home on Long Island.

Most of the campaigning will be done by the speakers who have been named. Plans for a few speeches in the Middle West, as Governor of Nebraska, built up a reputation as a "reactionary," largely because of his part in hammering down prices of gasoline in his State.

Throughout the campaign, the Davis-Bryan has been a picturesque figure. During most of the balloting he set up improvised headquarters under the speakers' stand at the main entrance to the floor and there he bottomed delegates as they came and went.

We don't know whether the lady above has long or short locks, for they are completely hidden by this draped turban of white satin de Lyon which was noticed by a Cheney artist at a recent Russian ball in Paris.

His figure could always be discerned from the little group of conferees because of his prominence with his little black skull cap of the same type as those worn by gray haired bookkeepers in the movies.

Bryan intends to go West immediately to his home and remain there for a quiet rest before the campaigning begins. His brother probably will return to Florida, where for a time he will make a few speeches in behalf of the new ticket.

Gas Production Shows Heavy Increase, May

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The greatest quantity of gasoline ever refined in one month was produced in May, when a total output of 780,194,019 gallons was recorded, according to figures issued today by the Bureau of Mines. This figure exceeds by more than 25,000,000 gallons the high record production mark made in April, which in turn surpassed by 11,000,000 gallons the previous high record set in March.

A record-breaking supply of gasoline on hand at refineries also was reported on June 1, when total stocks amounted to 1,647,359,835 gallons, an increase of 39,500,000 gallons over the stock on hand May 1, in itself a record figure. The daily increase in gasoline production in May over the corresponding month of last year was 4,789,978 gallons, or 23.5 per cent.

Exports of gasoline in May amounted to 96,879,769 gallons, a decrease of approximately 20,000,000 gallons; imports totaled 14,265,697, an increase of 6,600,000 gallons.

Kerosene showed a decrease in production from the previous month of 3,193,528 gallons the total production for May being 199,902,393 gallons.

The output of gas and fuel oils in May was 1,155,985,780 gallons, an increase during the month of 39,172,117 gallons. Stocks decreased 25,026,802 gallons, total stocks on hand June 1 being 1,530,112,132 gallons. Exports and imports both increased during the month, exports by 13,508,496 gallons and imports by 20,803,847 gallons.

The production of lubricants was 104,438,537 gallons, an increase during the month of May 7,471,972 gallons, while stocks decreased 8,864,713 gallons. Stocks on hand June 1, were 243,782,406 gallons.

Mute Grads Back For Big Reunion

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Washington recently played host to the strangest college reunion ever held—a gathering of old grads, at which not one audible cheer was raised nor one word spoken.

It was the alumni of Gallaudet College, the national school of higher education for the deaf, holding their first get-together in 10 years. Gallaudet lies on the outskirts of Washington, and is known to natives here as the "University of Silence". Then years ago it was only an experiment.

Today, according to Dr. Percival Hall, president, it is success. The reunion bringing back former students from every corner of the country, has proven that men unable to hear and some of them unable to speak, can fight the world on its own terms and come off triumphant.

The old grads came back in many costumes. Some wore clerical collars and plain black coats. Many are married, but strangely enough, all are happy.

Congress Skeptical
When the first congressional endorsement was provided by Congress for Gallaudet, many members of the House and Senate were skeptical of the practicality of the move.

Time, Dr. Hall says, has proven the case for Gallaudet. The progress made by graduates during the last ten years, has established the fact that deaf and dumb citizens can shoulder their share of the work of the world.

The alumni may be found scattered through nearly all the professions. Some are ministers of the Gospel, who preach by the sign language to congregations of the deaf in different denominations—Episcopal, Methodist, Baptist.

New York, Philadelphia and Chicago have churches for the deaf, with resident ministers. Smaller cities have visiting pastors who come once a week—or once a month—serving a circuit of places the size of Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse.

Own Newspapers
Three of the alumni own, edit, and publish newspapers. One is in Athol, Mass.; another in Arlington, N. J.; and the third in a small South Carolina town. All are weekly journals.

Many Gallaudet graduates are teachers in the state institutions for the deaf scattered across the country—experts in teaching mute children their three "R's".

Others hold positions in the government service in Washington—the navy war department, the state department, the bureau of standards, the census bureau.

The school has produced many scientists. Some of them are chemists in great industrial plants, in private laboratories, in government research plants.

One graduate chemist has an interesting job in a Brooklyn department store. He makes the store's perfumes and is recognized as an expert in his craft.

Artists Among Grads
The arts are not neglected. One man has made his mark in architecture, and, fittingly enough, recently won the commission for the Tennessee State School for the Deaf in competition. The building will be completed this summer. Another alumnus is an actor whose work is recognized as being among the best produced in this country.

Still other graduates are in business—real estate, printing and engraving. A few are farmers.

Dr. Hall says their biggest handicap is found not in themselves, but in the minds of the people with whom they seek employment. They must overcome a prejudice—a feeling that because of their inability to hear, it will be difficult to communicate with them.

O. Y. Manning accompanied by his wife and children left Mexia Sunday morning for Moulton, Texas. After spending a few days there they will then go to Ballinger, Texas for a few days. They expect to return to Mexia the end of the week.

Airplanes Common As Flivvers Now

DALLAS, Texas, July 11.—Airplanes are being sold in Dallas almost like flivvers, according to the Good & Foster air service station at Love Field. And they are not much more expensive than good small automobiles.

Since the middle of May approximately 200 planes have been sold at Love Field, at prices ranging from $800 to $500.

Repairs on the ships are not much more costly than spare parts for the average automobile, unless, of course, the plane falls from a great height.

Planes pass through Dallas at the rate of four to six a day, and many others fly over the city without stopping for food or supplies.

CENTURY MARK REACHED BY MASON AT OHIO HOME

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—The Masonic Home recently held a birthday party which will be remembered by the happy guests. William W. Bean, a member of the Home, was very much in the limelight on this festive occasion, when the anniversary of his 100th birthday was celebrated. An immense birthday cake, pyramidal in form, of five layers, measuring 30 inches at the base and 18 inches high was frosted and decorated with 100 pink candles. Rain prevented the flying exhibition planned by Lt. McReady of McCook field but after supper Brother Bean was escorted to the auditorium of the Rickly building and given the seat of honor.

or during the presentation of an elaborately costumed pageant portraying various characters in the early development of our country. Clinton Lodge of Masons from the Mansfield Sheet and Tin Works each presented a purse of money, while other Masonic lodges sent flowers and delegations to bear their congratulations.

A May pole dance was given by about 80 of the young people after which the Queen of the May cut the birthday cake, using the Knight Templar sword of Brother Bean. A letter of congratulations was also received from President Coolidge.

ALABAMA BOUND

Here we are in Little Rock. Land- ed this evening (Tuesday, 8th) all in good shape had another splendid day, no trouble except one puncture.

We have found this state to have lots of timber, mostly pine, gum and oak, also fruit in abundance, such as apples, pears, peaches, plums, cherries, etc.

And every twice in a while we see another saw mill or lumber plant.

We are tonight in the city park and things are nice and convenient, but some of you know how well I like to hunt and right here I have hunted it. This park has plenty of squirrels and I can't hunt, so I am from here in the morning headed for Memphis, Tenn., taller timber, but what do ew care. I shoot a Winchester.

Yours very truly,
A. M. WESSON.

Prim Prest.

BOYS, TAKE WARNING

The Hughes Park is a place for all the children of Mexia to gather and play and enjoy the pleasures of childhood. But not a place to cut up, aware and destroy other people's property. There are some bad little boys, going on the neighbors' premises, stealing fruit and breaking down their ees. Some have been caught in the act. This is wrong. Stealing is a bad start for young boys. So this article is to warn little boys to watch their steps.

STAMFORD IMPROVING

STAMFORD, Texas, July 11.—A building program, involving a total expenditure of $150,000 is under way here. A new theatre is included in the buildings under construction.

Since Uncle Magnus Johnson went back to Minnesota and reported on his success on cow milking in Washington he was unanimously re-elected Talladega (Ala.) Home.

"BOKEN OUT" FACES ARE NOT IN STYLE

The girls who can't wear clothes which are in style because they have eczema, rash, tetter, scrofula, or a "breaking out" where it would show are more to be scolded than pitied, because there is no need for them to be unattractive in out-of-style dresses when they can get rid of these skin troubles so easily now.

Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are surprising thousands of girls who have had to deny themselves the attention which more attractive girls get, because they quickly remove all trace of these skin troubles.

They are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—(Adv.)

THERE'S ART IN BOBBING.

It's no longer a question of snip, snip and it's off.

Particular women now demand that the hair which remains form a becoming frame for the face and gracefully outlined head.

That's where "art" comes in, for there are as many styles of bobs as there are bobbed haired girls and women. Each one is an individual problem of chin, eyes, nose and mouth.

Then there's the fashionable element—the smart touch which has always associated Paris with women's coiffures—

And the necessity of keeping the hair glossy, fluffy and clean.

All that fastidious women desire will be accomplished by a weekly visit and a small sum well spent at Temple, Texas, July 11—Lefty Webb weakened in the ninth after holding the Surgeons hitless for eight innings and after Ruben Lersner had doubled to deep center to score two runs he was hit by Humphreys. Lacy tried to score the tying run and Rankin Johnson got an infield hit to score the winning run. Nugent batted brilliant ball during his eight innings on the mound, having struck out ten batters, and his lack of control and misplay, allowed the runs scored against him.

MART MAULERS AND GROESBECK MATCHED SUNDAY

Nearly everyone has heard the old adage that "While the cat is away the mice will play" but this time that will read "While the Gushers are away the Goats will play."

The Groesbeck Goats will play the Mart Maulers at Gusher Park Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. This game will draw a big crowd from adjoining towns as well as Groesbeck and Mart.

Mart is the leader of the News-Tribune league and were the winners of the News-Tribune Cup last year, while the Groesbeck Goats stand well up in the race and is one of Mart's strongest contenders. The Maulers have played a total of 32 games, this season winning 29 and losing 3. Groesbeck has two of the defeats handed Mart to her credit and hopes to add another Sunday. The Goats have played 23 games, winning 15 and losing 8.

Mart has a galaxy of stars. Peck Hardee and Mule Townsend, were playing ball 15 years ago and are still going great. They have three stars or more, from Trinity University, pupils of Roy Akin, Rush and Otis Wicker, and Littlejohn. Lawrence Reisor, famous S. M. U. grid star, is playing third base for them and Maylew, coach of athletics at Marlin High School last year is playing left field.

The Goats have a good ball team managed by Sniped Connolly, former Baylor star, who is playing outfield. Pike Scheiffer, who pastimed in the Texas Association last year, and was with the Gushers for a short time during the first of the season, is handling most of the receiving for them and is managing the pitching staff which is composed of Lefty Snow, Simpson, P. G. Matthews, former S. M. U. twister and Mills. Minick, old Trinity first sacker, is on the initial bag. Bennie Strickland, Baylor star, is on third base, with Leonard, S. M. U. star, in left. Connolly in center and Mills in right. They have a good baseball club and will give a good game at Gusher Park at 3:30 Sunday.

Kentucky Man Teaches Brazilians To Be Good Sports

PARIS.—Teaching the spirit of sport and the practice of athletics to a people unschooled in these arts is the job of Alexander J. Hogarty, formerly of Lexington, Ky., and Chicago, now coach of the Brazilian Olympic track and field team. He is with eight men who carry the banner of Brazil in the eighth Olympiad, the first time the country has ever been represented in the classic track and field games.

Hogarty used to be track trainer at Duquesne University and after the Armistice was a Knights of Columbus athletic director in France. He went to St. Paulo, Brazil, three years ago as a pioneer in amateur sports in South America, engaged as athletic director for the Club Athletico Paulistano to teach Brazilian youth the science and benefit of American athletic methods.

The prospect was not too encouraging when he arrived. The only sport practiced by Brazilians at the time was soccer football, promoted by clubs and conducted in much the same way as hush-league baseball at home. Track and field athletics were unknown except through the movies. Scholars and universities had no athletic recreations, and men never indulged in competitive running for fun except at picnics, as at home, when a bag of beer used to be the prize.

Football Enthusiasts

The only encouraging sign was the enthusiasm of the people over football, but football is a game not too well suited to the moderate climate of Brazil. Hogarty set out to develop a similar interest in athletics that would better build up the youth of the land. A formidable undertaking where the games were not understood or appreciated, and where the spirit of competitive play was equally as foreign.

After three years he has brought eight of his best men to the Olympic games. He wanted to bring more, but funds were lacking for the long journey. He is aware these men may not break any world's records, but he is confident they will do well, and certain that they will learn much that will promote athletics more speedily when they get home.

Brazilian Records

Alvaro Ribeiro is a sprinter who can do the 100 metres in 10 4-5 and the 200 in 22 1-5. Narciso Costa does the 400 metres in 51 2-5, and he also runs the 800 metres well. Alfredo Gomes, whom Hogarty calls a dark horse and one of the most promising athletes of Brazil, is a fine cross country runner, and does all middle distance in fast time. Eurico Freitas can beat French records in the high jump and pole vault. Willy Scewald is record man of South America in the javelin throw and Octavo Zani holds the South American record with the hammer. Scewald's best mark is 56.88 metres. Jose Galimberti is a shot-putter. In the high hurdles will appear A. J. Byington, that's too far, I'll get all tuckered out. It took some driving at first, but they were quick to learn, and now they get out on the track and go through their paces like a bunch of American college boys. Slowly but surely, Brazil is developing into an athletic country.

Hogarty has been able to build a fine 400-metre track at St. Paulo and interest in athletic contests is growing.

WHAT'S THE USE?

The most futile thing in the world is to hunt over the house for a lead pencil. Even if you find it, which is doubtful, it will not have a point on it.

How a world-noted chef discovered a new breakfast delight for millions in Quick Quaker. The recipe:

HERE is a change from ordinary breakfasts; the most delicious and alluring you can fancy. No bother; no fussing to prepare it—and oh! Here's the recipe:

As you prepare dinner tonight, cook your regular breakfast quantity of QUICK QUAKER (the new Quaker Oats that cooks in 3 to 5 minutes).

When done, pour into a pudding mould and let cool. Then place in the refrigerator over night. Cut in medium thick slices and serve at breakfast with fresh or cooked fruits or berries and sugar—float with rich milk or cream.

The combination is delightful. A world noted chef discovered this new way. Now millions enjoy it every day. Just for the joy of it, try it yourself.

Clothing Prices Up 14 Per Cent

The cost of clothing of the average family has increased 14 per cent in the last two years, according to the National Industrial Conference Board, which recently made a nation-wide study of apparel prices. The board also found that clothing prices had gone up 76 per cent since 1914, but were 36 per cent lower than they were at the price peak of March, 1920. The estimates were based on "a fair grade of inexpensive merchandise usually purchased by families in moderate circumstances." Figures for this study were furnished by 194 dealers in 80 cities.

JAP MINISTER SEES TROUBLE WITH AMERICA

RUM RUNNERS BLOW UP RAIDING PARSON'S CHURCH

MINISTER AWAY AND NONE IS INJURED IN BLAST

JOLIET, Ill., July 11.—"Speak easy" proprietors and rum runners took their revenge early today on the Rev. Henry E. Hompel, "three gun parson," who has been a leader of recent dry raids, when they blew out the rear end of his church with a charge of dynamite. Nearly every plate glass window in the business district was broken by the blast, which was felt for miles around.

The dynamite was placed under part of the church which has been used as a parsonage, but since Hompel was out of the city no one was injured.

The raiding parson first achieved fame last December when he led 20 prohibition agents on a raid of ten Joliet saloons. Later he went out at the head of raiding parties aimed at putting out of business road houses and illicit liquor dealers in the neighboring county.

Galveston Ruben Fastest in State

HOUSTON, Texas, July 11.—Five minutes has been cut from the running schedule of interurban trains between here and Galveston, bringing the running time down to 75 minutes for the 50 miles. The old schedule of 80 minutes was already speedier than any 50 mile interurban service in the country, C. A. Brann, traffic chief for the Galveston-Houston Electric Railway Company says.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero: Rube Benton, whose pitching and batting was responsible for the Reds win over the Phils, 2 to 1.

The Braves got an early lead over the Pirates and Barnes just managed to stall off an attempted rally, Boston winning, 5 to 3.

Cleveland came from behind and scored 3 runs in the eighth to beat the Athletics 4 to 3.

Unlimbering some heavy artillery, the Cubs had a field day, taking both ends of a double bill from the Robins, 9 to 5 and 10 to 3.

Washington dropped the first game of a double header to Detroit, 12 to 10 in 13 innings, and dropped to a tie for first place. The second game went only five innings to a 3 to 3 tie.

Despite homers by Frisch and Wilson in the eighth, the Giants lost to the Cardinals, 5 to 4, Dickerman's twirling being most effective.

The Yanks won twice from the White Sox, 6 to 1 and 13 to 5 and went into a tie for the league leadership with Washington. The Babe hit his 23rd homer.

Lee Fohl's Red Sox made it three straight from the Browns, thanks to Fullerton's excellent pitching. Wamby's batting was another feature. Score, 8 to 2.

He did not have a ticket when he reached Madison Square but approached the Press entrance. He was asked what paper he represented. He replied "Texas," and went on in. It was easy for a New Yorker or an Al Smith enthusiast to get a good seat inside but many traveled almost across the continent as guests and

DOCTORS TO TAKE STAND IN CASE AGAINST BOY MURDERERS

CHICAGO, July 11.—Doctors and attorneys for the millionaire Leopold and Loeb families—retained in an attempt to save their sons from hanging for the murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks—today started translation of medical findings into language which will be understood by a jury.

One of the youthful murderers is suffering from infected "basal ganglia" and the other has a diseased "adrenal cortex," according to the doctors' findings. These terms and hundreds of others must be explained that a jury will understand that Leopold and Loeb were not responsible when they killed the Franks boy, according to Clarence Darrow, chief defense counsel.

Out of the large array of doctors who have examined the two confessed murderers no more than five or six will be placed on the witness stand, Darrow indicated. These will be selected for their eminence in their profession in order to "carry more weight."

While the defense was plotting its case—a plan that young Leopold Leob, though profound scholars, were really insane—attorneys for the State were preparing their arguments for a conviction.

"These young men have committed Chicago's direst crime," Robert E. Crowe, State's attorney, said. "We have a hanging case against them and we will spare no time or effort to see that they pay the penalty."

"I understand that the defense will seek to prove the defendants insane. To this argument we can answer the testimony of four of Chicago's most eminent alienists, which I am sure will indicate that the boys are perfectly sane."

Arguments for quashing of indictments and delay of the trial—now set for Aug. 4—will be heard in criminal court before Judge John R. Caverly on July 21. At that time, Darrow is expected to ask that the young murderers be given an insanity hearing instead of a criminal trial.

NEW WAY MUST BE FOUND HE SAYS BEFORE LEAVING

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Leaving Washington today, Masanao Hanihara, retiring Japanese Ambassador here returns to his country convinced that a more satisfactory disposition of the Japanese immigration question must be arranged if trouble is to be avoided between the two countries.

Hanihara is not making any statement for publication but the seriousness with which the Japanese people regard the new American exclusion law is shown by the fact that the Ambassador is understood to believe that although the outward anti-American demonstrations in his country soon will end such a feeling on the part of the Japanese will continue under the surface.

Hanihara leaves Washington later today. He goes direct to San Francisco where he will sail for Japan on board the Corea July 18.

Officially it is said that Hanihara has not yet resigned as Ambassador and that he is returning to Japan on leave. However, the understanding here is that he probably will not return to Washington as Ambassador.

The future course of Japan in dealing with the American question is expected to be decided after conferences between Hanihara and the Tokio Government. It is believed doubtful that any further important step will be taken by Japan before the elections in this country but there is every indication that Japan does not regard the question as a closed incident.

The American Government does regard the question as closed, showing what opposite attitudes are now maintained by the two countries on this one disturbing factor between the two nations.

To add to the vividness of the occasion the electrically driven pipe organ ceased playing with a long drawn wail.

Here's How It Happened

The Inside Story of the National Democratic Convention.

By A. GARLAND ADAIR
Managing Editor of The Mexia Daily News

NUMBER 1.

The Democratic convention just closed was no love feast.

In its deliberations, it pounced upon the viciousness of an ancient foe upon the Republican party. Then encouraged by friends and foes, within and without, democrats turned on each other and as a result, the democratic party is today limping home badly crippled and with scars that will remain long after the ides of November.

Fires of prejudice and hatred were let loose upon the convention which will spread until the entire nation will know of that which transpired to the dishonor of the party at Madison Square Garden during the past three weeks.

Never has the party of the people, for the people and by the people passed through such a siege as that just closed in Gotham. Never were its own ranks so badly disorganized by distrust and division. Never were the representatives to a party convention so much at outs with would-be leaders, who, self appointed, as far as the party was concerned, stirred up strife and prevented that harmony which would have enabled the Democrats of the Nation, this evening November, to have wrested the government from the greedy hands of the privileged few and returned it to those who foster "good will to all men" and enmity and malice toward none.

Ultimately a good man was chosen as standard bearer. Because of the serried ranks within the party, wounded deeply by a prolonged experience in New York, John Davis may not win the Presidency but he should.

In his keynote speech, Pat Harrison declared that the convention was to be no cold storage affair. He spoke prophetically but little did he, or any one else, believe that he would see the political pot boil so furiously and so continuously at the convention then convening.

Regardless of what many may say and what all good Democrats would like to believe, there is today bitter division in the party, the so-called nicknamed love feast of Wednesday night to the contrary notwithstanding.

Between two elements of the people's party, at New York recently, there appeared a deep, wide and impassable gulf. These conflicting divisions are as divergent on several primary subjects, as are contending parties even on primary party principles.

More and more, in the state over which Al Smith presides and throughout the convention period, it became apparent that the life of the party was threatened by the internal irreconcilable conflicts between prohibition and the liquor power.

There were other forces than those of liquor opposed to Mr. McAdoo, just as there were others than prohibitionists opposed to Mr. Smith. But the main division in the party, there then, here and now, is along the lines of wet and dry.

Ed Moore of Ohio and Harry Hawes of Missouri, who led the fight on William Gibbs McAdoo, are nationally famed as liquor lawyers.

Messrs. Cook and Lewis, co-workers with them and noted for similar relations with violators of the Eighteenth amendment, completed a quartet of professional wets who would rather win their cases and see their party defeated than to permit a sincere, militant prohibitionist and constitutionalist elected President of the United States. They were Democrats bought and paid for professionally rather than democrats from principle. Such detestable tribes truly belong to what is known in New York as "Tammany Braves," which from what was recently seen in the convention city should be known as "Bowery Brays" instead. They are above all and under all, Antis, first, last and all the time, as long at least as the pay roll is met promptly. Showing more disregard of party and national patriotism, their real hopes and intentions were skillfully disguised under the guise of attacking the Ku Klux Klan.

They knew that the Klan was a subject, though not fundamentally a party issue, which could be brought up and which would divide the convention closely and bring about the nomination of any man but McAdoo. In this they knew they had the financial backing in their fight against McAdoo of Wall Street. They figured that if all the liquor forces could be united in an attack on the Ku Klux Klan, which should be easy since the order had been attacking the liquor traffic through co-operation with the Anti Saloon League, together with all others of various races and creeds opposed to the Klan, that a machine could be built up which would block the offense of Mr. McAdoo at every turn.

Battling on their own ground and with weapons of their own choice and selection, they did beat Mr. McAdoo.

Al Smith simply permitted himself to be used as a tool in the hands of the wets and Wall Street interests to accomplish the end. His sole purpose was to defeat McAdoo. Almost every public utterance proved this. He declared that they were prepared to "fight it out along these lines all summer if necessary."

The first signal success of the carefully conceived campaign, occurred when New York was selected as the Convention City.

Tom Ryan of New York and Virginia was one of the powers behind the invisible throne, who assisted in formulating the plan. He compelled the sending of the Convention to New York City, Ryan is as wet in principle as Tom Taggart admits himself to be in practice.

The McAdoo forces fought to the bitter end. They fought for a man for President whom they knew would enforce the Constitution, all its amendments and the bill of rights, fighting for the ideals of the farms, the homes in our small towns and for the convictions which animate the great mass of the American people.

The voice of the democracy of the Democratic States of the Nation applauded efforts to nominate Mr. McAdoo. The West, Northwest, parts of the Middle West and almost solid South clamored for him as the proper leader for the party in November. In an enemies' arena, surrounded by a mob of Republican States; within ear shot of Wall Street and other political forces, Mr. McAdoo lost but Mr. Smith did not win.

The delegates to the convention are now returning to the people who form the party, challenging them to save their country from a return to saloon and special interests misrule and saying to them "To you from falling hands we fling the torch, hold it high, hold it high, keep the faith, keep the faith."

Mrs. H. P. White of Houston is here on a most pleasant visit in the home of her sister, Mrs. H. C. Freeman. Mrs. White was formerly Miss Vivian Wynn of Huntsville and as such known to quite a few of this place.

FIREWORKS DISPLAY AT PLAY GROUNDS THURSDAY NIGHT BEAUTIFUL

Thursday night at the Playgrounds on Jack's Creek was a fire works display that would have done credit to a city much larger than Mexia. It was the postponed July 4th celebration that Mr. Cobb had arranged for the Nation's natal day but on account of rain he let it be known that he would give the full celebration program the night of the 10 and so he did.

With the big silver moon hanging on high the water full of bathers in vari-colored bathing suits with the lights over the water and the shrill laugh of glee the fire works placed just across on the bluff overlooking the water gave a carnival air and spirit to the occasion that made it quite enjoyable to all present. Besides many bathers the bath house gallery and steps was lined with many strollers. Judging from the number of cars parked near the pavilion there must have been over a thousand people on hand. In fact the "traffic jam" was so "jammed" that it was some time before early comers could get their cars out of the space. This is a paradise for this part of the state and a pleasure resort that any section of the country might well be proud. There were many strangers on hand showing that Mexia's Playgrounds is well advertised and she invites all from far and near to spend the hot evenings on the Banks of the River that Golden Lane made famous.

The display was on a large scale and the aerial bombs with sprays and rockets gave an exhibition that many had not seen before. The fine new road to Mexia was lined with cars going and coming till late and from the interest so far taken in the Playgrounds Mexia will be a mecca this summer for many that haven't the chance to go to sea shore or mountain resorts. It is a place we should well feel proud of any enjoy at every opportunity. The grounds and concessions are well kept and furnishes a clean wholesome resort that will be a boon to many in this section. Mexia is proud to have such a place to invite her guests and strangers and make them feel that all the pleasures are not confined to the larger cities.

Lyman Forrest and family have returned to their home in LeLeon after a few days visit to the old home here.

Rex Forrest, who has been ill the past week, is reported better.

A. Garland Adair, managing editor of the Daily News, arrived home Thursday night from the big democratic convention, and is again in harness. He said he heard many fine speeches, but the best one was what the train porter called out "MEXIA."

Mrs. Geo. W. Black of Thornton, who was recently quite sick, is in the city to spend a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Kendrick, and Mr. Black is talking of visiting his old "stomping grounds" in Tennessee.

Lyman Forrest and family have returned to their home in LeLeon after a few days visit to the old home here.

Rex Forrest, who has been ill the past week, is reported better.

Mr. L. S. Patterson, of the Patterson Jewelry Co., is in receipt of a letter from Mr. E. P. Warner, an advertising expert of Kansas City, who wants information about details of the wonderful "Put and Take" Sale recently held here.

Mr. Warner is profuse in his praise and wishes Mr. Patterson's co-operation in incorporating the idea and the name, which has already been copyrighted by Mr. Patterson, into a selling plan for use in general selling campaigns where money must be raised quickly.

This is only another instance of proof that The Mexia Daily News is not confined to the larger cities.

Nevada Town Same As It Was In '49

ROUGH FRONTIERSMEN MUCH
AS THEY WERE IN PIONEER
DAYS OF GOLD RUSH

ELY, Nevada, July 10.—Still clinging to the style of the Western mining camp of fifty years ago, this little town, perched in the mountains of Eastern Nevada, has changed very little from the time it was founded. With the exception of the automobile things are much as they were in the early seventies. Saloon signs still swing over the wooden side walks. Ostensibly they serve only soft drinks inside, but it is said that real "likker" can still be obtained over the glistening mahogany bars. It is one of the very few towns in the United States where legalized vice remains. Almost every form of gambling—poker, roulette, twenty-one, panguine and even baccarat—is played.

Gayly lighted dance halls flourish and painted Magdalens attempt to entice the pesser-by with coy smiles and honeyed words. It is no uncommon thing for a gun fight to ensue between a "buckaroo", just off the range, and a grizzled miner, smelling of earth, over the carmine smile of a dance hall queen.

Until very recently, when a squad of prohibition enforcement officers swooped into Ely for the purpose of "cleaning up the town," it is said that certain people boasted of the quality of the locally brewed beer one could purchase here. There was a "home brew trust" and a beer produced had to pass a chemical test of high degree before it was permitted to be put on the market. The independent brewer would no sooner start than his product would be declared inferior and he would be forced out of business.

STYLE HINTS

By ALICE LANGEIER
International News Service Staff

PARIS, July 10.—In spite of the very gay colors that are brightening Paris this season, fashion dictators are showing many black and white combinations. In fact, a recent Russian fete has been jokingly called the "magnie affair," so very numerous were the gowns of this order.

Madame Ytch, a Russian, who is one of Paris' most famous designers, set the fashion by wearing a black satin gown, with an overskirt of white lace. Another smart black and white affair was a Chanel model, and worn by a Russian countess. It was in black crepe de chine, with a black and white crepe scarf and long black coat, with a gilet of black and white printed crepe. The same scheme was carried out in the black Bangkok hat, with two white roses at the side.

Nicole Groult is showing a delightful three-piece costume in cream silk alpaca, which is much used by this house. With it comes a black silk coat, lined with white and deep bands of black and white embroidery done in cross-stitch on fine toile.

Still another model is in white silk alpaca, with a black silk coat, embroidered in Chinese design in white. A white silk alpaca coat-frock has a light trimming of black and silver braid, and a black and white flowered corsage has curious black mitten sleeves.

An Ytch model has a foundation of black crepe de chine, with a tunic of black and white crepe printed in a design of irregular circles. With it goes a black parasol, lined with white, and a black straw hat showing the new high crown, with black and white aigrettes at the side.

Season's Greatest Value Event

$3.65

The extraordinary values we are giving on Ladies Slippers at this low price of $3.65 created a furore of buying the first day of the sale.

This is the lowest price we have ever put on such high grade shoes—think of it—slippers formerly selling at $7.50 to $10 going at $3.65 the pair—and the styles are good—they are odd lots, one to five pairs of a style. Styles in women's slippers are so numerous these days that it necessitates our carrying an unusually large assortment, thus we find that we have entirely too many lots now on hand with just a few pairs in each lot.

We are closing these out in this sale regardless of cost—we would rather have the $3.65 a pair, though way less than they actually cost wholesale, than to have odd pairs sticking around in the shelf.

Come in and get fitted out at this

TELEPHONE 146

We want the news, all the news of all the people, while it is news, and requests the readers to send in or telephone 146 or 361 news items and personals of their friends and acquaintances.

Entered as second-class matter, February 26, 1919, at the Postoffice at Mexia, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

"For Mexia, I WILL"

Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself.—Luke 10:27.

When Jimmie Cox showed up at the convention last Monday it was said that he had come to do his bit in breaking the deadlock. And he did.

The next thing now is to get together, stay together, pull together, and win together. Forget the hard things said at the convention, and remember that the wicked republicans are just as wicked now as they were a month ago. "Drive the rascals out!"

Governor Neff is back at his desk in the capitol laughing in his sleeve at the way his theory of uninstructed delegations was finally proven correct. He says if the delegations had all been foot-loose a nomination could have been made on the third instead of the 103rd ballot and thus saved several days hard work for the convention. And the governor is also satisfied with the nominee, whom he regards as a great big man, capable of leading the party to victory at the polls.

UP TO NOW

"Have you a radio?" has until recently been a query similar to "have you a talking machine?" or "have you a player piano?"

But in a very short time, asking a man if he has a radio will be as rude as asking him if he possesses a bathtub, or a telephone, or a clean shirt.

The Cleveland and New York conventions have, for the first time, been participated in by millions of voters. True, the participation was vicarious; the unseen audience was a silent one, but it was an intent one. And the educational result of millions of people having listened directly to the great leaders of both parties discussing questions of national importance, unquestionably will be felt in November.

The newspapers, of course, carry full reports. But few people read all the newspaper has to say. The newspaper offers a choice of interesting news, politics, and prize fights, baseball and battle, prehistoric discovery and prohibition doings bid for attention.

Listeners in take what they get. Their's not to choose; their's but to sit silent and absorb what is "in the air." There is usually choice of entertainment, but what greater entertainment is there than the making of history, the nominations, the balloting; not next day, cold in type, but now, this instant, heard in the home as soon as spoken in the convention?

We are having a political rebirth. We are knowing where formerly we guessed. Just what the radio is to mean in citizenship training is only faintly foreshadowed, but already it seems so big and so important that soon, for one to confess he is "not interested in radio" will be much the same as saying, "I am not interested in books."

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

THE NOMINEE

(Waco Times-Herald)
Davis' greatness has become almost a legend, so much so that when a person sets out to discover upon what it is founded, even some of those who are loudest in singing his praises are a bit shy on detail in filling in the canvas. It seems that Davis has been one of an unusual type. He stands out in about everything he tackles. He was the most prominent lawyer of his home town, Clarksburg, W. Va., a few years after he started in practice. He was party leader in the legislature at 25. He was the most prominent lawyer of his state. He came to congress, and in the house soon was lifted above the common level of mediocrity, which generally is the fate of members for a good many years. He became solicitor general of the United States and happened to have some of the biggest cases of recent years to argue before the supreme court.

Then he was sent to Europe to the court of St. James as ambassador by Woodrow Wilson, and came home with many calling him a "great ambassador." He went into the practice of law in New York with one of the oldest firms there—Grover Cleveland at one time was associated with the same concern—and he has some of the biggest clients in the country today, among whom might be enumerated the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., the Bell Telephone company of New York, at least one labor union and the Associated Press. So might Davis' life work be hastily sketched over. It seems he is just one of the sort about whom folks begin saying he has "great ability" or is "brilliant" naturally. It might even be mentioned that his fellow lawyers some time back elected him president of the American Bar Association.

More persons know Davis by reputation than they do personally. That is one weak spot in his presidential boomlet. He has a host of long range admirers. But his general party acquaintance is rather slight and confined to the so-called upper stratum, or leader class. His name carries no heart-tug to the workers down in the trenches and his many virtues would have to be made known to great sections of the country, especially the agricultural middle west. For his life work and activities have been confined almost entirely to "Down East."

Those who do know John W. Davis personally like him and become life members of the admiration society that somehow always surrounds him. About six feet tall, 51 years old, with hair that is silvery, he has an appearance that can best be described by that hackneyed phrase, "Distinguished." In short, he looks the part. He is a clever conversationalist, witty at repartee, and a good after dinner speaker. Despite all the adulation thrust upon him he is not the upstage sort, although he probably has a fair estimation of his own worth.

The sort of thing that Davis believes in, his creed of life, largely has to be drawn from his public speeches, of which he has made many, for he is probably more in demand as a democratic orator than any other man in the east. The last 10 years or so he has been either in appointive office or the practice of law, so his legislative commitments are archaic in this fast moving day and age. The big charge leveled against him politically is that he is a corporation lawyer. He is, was and has been for a long time. He doesn't deny it. He also has represented Mother Jones and Eugene Debs.

"PROMOTION" FOR JANITORS

FORT WORTH, July 11.—Henceforth, local schools will have no janitors. At a meeting here, the school board voted to call the former janitors, "custodians." The board explained that custodian was more dignified and less embarrassing to the men.

Hill County Official Gets Seven Years

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, July 11.—E. F. Stovall of Abbott, Hill county, was found guilty on a charge of accepting a bribe of $7,000 in connection with the letting of road contracts amounting to $804,000 in Hill County in 1920. A jury in District Judge W. L. Harding's court here Thursday assessed a sentence of seven years in the State penitentiary after deliberation lasting an hour and ten minutes.

Mr. Stovall was tried once before on the same charge in Hill county and at that time was sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. The defense then succeeded in having the case transferred to Ellis county.

Considerable interest has been manifested in the case by people in Central Texas. Fair-sized crowds have heard the taking of testimony and the argument of the attorneys. Will A. Martin, County Attorney of Hill county, opened argument for the State and was followed by Mr. Collins of the defense. J. E. Clark, Assistant District Attorney of Hill County, closed the case for the State and A. M. Frazier closed for the defense.

MAN HAS ANTHRAX

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 11.—Plans are being made to combat the spread of anthrax among cattle in this county. There are approximately 200 cases of the disease now. The disease can be communicated to humans and one man in Port Neches is believed to have caught it. Death usually results to persons who contract the disease.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY REUNITED NOW FACE THE COUNTRY

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, July 10.—Discordant forces of the Democratic party which fought bitterly for more than two weeks were called together today to plan a united campaign for John W. Davis and Charles W. Bryan, the nominees who emerged victorious from the unprecedented struggle.

The National Committee met in the Waldorf hotel here to reorganize behind its newly chosen leaders and soothe sores that were opened in the 16-day convention.

Davis himself extended the olive branch to the leaders who had fought him and in his first pronouncements after his nomination called upon the party to unite.

The ascension of the brother of William J. Bryan to second place on the new Democratic national ticket was planned to close the rift between the Commoner and Davis. Religious differences which were so bitterly fought out were hidden behind the veil of the past and all the unsuccessful candidates gave assurances in varying degrees of co-operation.

Al Smith, who was not permitted to address the convention as a candidate, but who came before it as Governor of New York, after being defeated, was the first to extend his promise of support to his victor.

"I shall take off my coat and vest, and so will everybody who follows me in the party in this State and do what I can to elect the ticket coming from this convention," Smith said.

McAdoo, the other unsuccessful leading candidate, was less enthusiastic, and at first reserved comment on the selection of Davis. But later, his close friends let it be known that he would not attempt to hurl any monkey wrench into the new machine.

Aligned with McAdoo was William J. Bryan, who bitterly fought Davis as "a force of reaction." Boomed in every speech he made from the platform, defeated overwhelmingly in his fight on what he chose to call the "reactionaries," Bryan "had nothing to say" after the nomination.

But the choosing of his brother, the Governor of Nebraska, for the vice presidential nomination, stifled any objection which his silence might have inferred. The selection of the younger brother is said to have been made at the instance of Davis himself and is considered a strong indication of how far Davis intends to go to bring to his support the dissatisfied McAdoo-Bryan elements.

Frank L. Polk, who led the pre-convention campaign for Davis, is expected to succeed Cordell Hull as chairman of the National Committee. Hull has been in poor health and is ready to retire. It is the usual custom for the campaign manager of the successful candidate to succeed to the chairmanship of the committee which will have charge of the election campaign.

Davis' campaign plans have not yet been made. His friends, however, say that he will make a vigorous active campaign, perhaps touring the entire country before the polls open in November. He is staying now at the Polk home just off Fifth avenue here, but he intends to leave the city Saturday for some unannounced destination, probably his home on Long Island.

Most of the campaigning will be done by the running mate plans a few speeches in the Middle West and as Governor of Nebraska, built up a reputation as a fighter of "reactionaries," largely because of his part in hammering down prices of gasoline in his State.

Throughout the campaign, the younger Bryan has been a picturesque figure. During most of the balloting he set up improvised headquarters under the speakers stand at the main entrance to the floor and there he bottomholed delegates as they came and went.

His figure could always be discerned from the little group of conferees because of his prominence with his little black skull cap of the same type as those worn by gray haired bookkeepers in the movies.

Bryan intends to go West immediately to his home and remain there for a quiet rest before the campaigning begins. His brother probably will return to Florida, where for a time he will make a few speeches in behalf of the new ticket.

Mute Grads Back For Big Reunion

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Washington recently played host to the strangest college reunion ever held—a gathering of old grads, at which not one audible cheer was raised nor one word spoken.

It was the alumni of Gallaudet College, the national school of higher education for the deaf, holding their first get-together in 10 years. Gallaudet lies on the outskirts of Washington, and is known to natives here as the "University of Silence". Then years ago it was only an experiment.

Today, according to Dr. Percival Hall, president, it is success. The reunion bringing back former students from every corner of the country, has proven that men unable to hear and some of them unable to speak, can fight the world on its own terms and come off triumphant.

The old grads came back in many costumes. Some wore clerical collars and plain black coats. Many are married, but strangely enough, all are happy.

Congress Skeptical
When the first congressional endorsement was provided by Congress for Gallaudet, many members of the House and Senate were skeptical of the practicality of the move.

Time, Dr. Hall says, has proven the case for Gallaudet. The progress made by graduates during the last ten years, has established the fact that deaf and dumb citizens can shoulder their share of the work of the world.

The alumni may be found scattered through nearly all the professions. Some are ministers of the Gospel, who preach by the sign language to congregations of the deaf in different denominations—Episcopal, Methodist, Baptist.

New York, Philadelphia and Chicago have churches for the deaf, with resident ministers. Smaller cities have visiting pastors who come once a week—or once a month—serving a circuit of places the size of Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse.

Own Newspapers
Three of the alumni own, edit, and publish newspapers. One is in Athol, Mass.; another in Arlington, N. J.; and the third in a small South Carolina town. All are weekly journals.

Many Gallaudet graduates are teachers in the state institutions for the deaf scattered across the country—experts in teaching mute children their three "R's".

Others hold positions in the government service in Washington—the navy war department, the state department, the bureau of standards, the census bureau.

The school has produced many scientists. Some of them are chemists in great industrial plants, in private laboratories, in government research plants.

One graduate chemist has an interesting job in a Brooklyn department store. He makes the store's perfumes and is recognized as an expert in his craft.

Artists Among Grads
The arts are not neglected. One man has made his mark in architecture, and, fittingly enough, recently won the commission for the Tennessee State School for the Deaf in competition. The building will be completed this summer. Another alumnus is an etcher whose work is recognized as being among the best produced in this country.

Still other graduates are in business—real estate, printing and engraving. A few are farmers.

Dr. Hall says their biggest handicap is found not in themselves, but in the minds of the people with whom they seek employment. They must overcome a prejudice—a feeling that because of their inability to hear, it will be difficult to communicate with them.

O. Y. Manning accompanied by his wife and children left Mexia Sunday morning for Moulton, Texas. After spending a few days there they will then go to Ballinger, Texas for a few days. They expect to return to Mexia the end of the week.

Airplanes Common As Flivvers Now

DALLAS, Texas, July 11.—Airplanes are being sold in Dallas almost like flivvers, according to the Good & Foster air service station at Love Field. And they are not much more expensive than good small automobiles.

Since the middle of May approximately 200 planes have been sold at Love Field, at prices ranging from $300 to $500.

Repairs on the ships are not much more costly than spare parts for the average automobile, unless, of course, the plane falls from a great height.

Planes pass through Dallas at the rate of four to six a day, and many others fly over the city without stopping for food or supplies.

CENTURY MARK REACHED BY MASON AT OHIO HOME

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—The Masonic Home recently held a birthday party which will be remembered by the happy guests. William W. Bean, a member of the Home, was very much in the limelight on this festive occasion, when the anniversary of his 100th birthday was celebrated. An immense birthday cake, pyramidal in form, of five layers, measuring 30 inches at the base and 18 inches high was frosted and decorated with 100 pink candles. Rain prevented the flying exhibition planned by Lt. McReady of McCook field but after supper Brother Bean was escorted to the auditorium of the Rickly building and given the seat of honor.

or during the presentation of an elaborately costumed pageant portraying various characters in the early development of our country. Clinton Lodge of Masons from the Mansfield Sheet and Tin Works each presented a purse of money, while other Masonic lodges sent flowers and delegations to bear their congratulations.

A May pole dance was given by about 60 of the young people after which the Queen of the May cut the birthday cake, using the Knight Templar sword of Brother Bean. A letter of congratulations was also received from President Coolidge.

ALABAMA BOUND

Here we are in Little Rock. Land, ed this evening (Tuesday, 8th) all in good shape had another splendid day, no trouble except one puncture.

We have found this state to have lots of timber, mostly pine, gum and oak, also fruit in abundance, such as apples, pears, peaches, plums, cherries, etc.

And every twice in a while we see another saw mill or lumber plant.

We are tonight in the city park and things are nice and convenient, but some of you know how well I like to hunt and right here I have hunted it. This park has plenty of squirrels and I can't hunt, so I am from here in the morning headed for Memphis, Tenn., taller timber, but what do ew care. I shoot a Winchester.

Yours very truly,
A. M. WESSON.
Prim Prest.

BOYS, TAKE WARNING

The Hughes Park is a place for all the children of Mexia to gather and play and enjoy the pleasures of childhood. But not a place to cut up, swear and destroy other people's property. There are some bad little boys, going on the neighbors' premises, stealing fruit and breaking down their ees. Some have been caught in the act. This is wrong. Stealing is a bad start for young boys. So this article is to warn little boys to watch their steps.

"BOKEN OUT" FACES ARE NOT IN STYLE

The girls who can't wear clothes which are in style because they have eczema, rash, tetter, scrofula, or a "breaking out" where it would show are more to be scolded than pitied, because there is no need for them to be unattractive in out-of-style dresses when they can get rid of these skin troubles so easily now.

Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are surprising thousands of girls who have had to deny themselves the attention which more attractive girls get, because they quickly remove all trace of these skin troubles.

They are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—(Adv.)

THERE'S ART IN BOBBING

It's no longer a question of snip, snip and it's off.

Particular women now demand that the hair which remains form a becoming frame for the face and gracefully outlined head.

That's where "art" comes in, for there are as many styles of bobs as there are bobbed haired girls and women. Each one is an individual problem of chin, eyes, nose and mouth.

Then there's the fashionable element—the smart touch which has always associated Paris with women's coiffures—

And the necessity of keeping the hair glossy, fluffy and clean.

All that fastidious women desire will be accomplished by a weekly visit and a small sum well spent at

CORSICANA 4, MARLIN 0.

MARLIN, Texas, July 10.—Home runs by Sain, Brown and Barrett's sixteenth of the season proved too much for the Marlin Bathers here today, the Oilers winning by the score of 4 to 0. Arguio pitched fine ball, not allowing a Marlin runner to reach third base and giving up only six scattered hits.

TEMPLE 5, AUSTIN 4

TEMPLE, Texas, July 11.—Lefty Webb weakened in the ninth after holding the Surgeons hitless for eight innings and after Rubie Leisner had doubled to deep center to score two runs he was relieved by Humphreys. Lacy tripled to score the tying run and Rankin Johnson got an infield hit to score the winning run. Nugent hurled brilliant ball during his eight innings on the mound, having struck out ten batters, and his lack of control and misplays allowed the runs scored against him.

MART MAULERS AND GROESBECK MATCHED SUNDAY

Nearly everyone has heard the old adage that "While the cat is away the mice will play" but this time that will read "While the Gushers are away the Goats will play."

The Groesbeck Goats will play the Mart Maulers at Gusher Park Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. This game will draw a big crowd from adjoining towns as well as Groesbeck and Mart.

Mart is the leader of the News-Tribune league and were the winners of the News-Tribune Cup last year, while the Groesbeck Goats stand well up in the race and is one of Mart's strongest contenders. The Maulers have played a total of 32 games. This season winning 29 and losing 3. Groesbeck has two of the defeats handed Mart to her credit and hopes to add another Sunday. The Goats have played 23 games, winning 15 and losing 8.

Mart has a galaxy of stars. Peck Hardee and Mule Townsend, were playing ball 15 years ago and are still going great. They have three stars or more, from Trinity University, pupils of Roy Akin, Rush and Otis Wicker, and Littlejohn. Lawrence Reisor, famous S. M. U. grid star, is playing third base for them and Mayhew, coach of athletics at Martin High School last year is playing left field.

The Goats have a good ball team managed by Sniped Connolly, former Baylor star, who is playing outfield. Pike Scheiffer, who pastimed in the Texas Association last year, and was with the Gushers for a short time during the first of the season, is handling most of the receiving for them and is managing the pitching staff which is composed of Lefty Snow, Simpson, P. G. Matthews, former S. M. U. twirler and Mills. Minick, old Trinity first sacker, is on the initial bag. Bennie Strickland, Baylor star, is on third base, with Leonard, S. M. U. star, in left. Connolly in center and Mills in right. They have a good baseball club and will be a good game at Gusher Park at 3:30 Sunday.

Kentucky Man Teaches Brazilians To Be Good Sports

PARIS.—Teaching the spirit of sport and the practice of athletics to a people unschooled in these arts is the job of Alexander J. Hogarty, formerly of Lexington, Ky., and Chicago, now coach of the Brazilian Olympic track and field team. He is here with eight men who carry the banner of Brazil in the eighth Olympiad, the first time the country has ever been represented in the classic track and field games.

Hogarty used to be track trainer at Duquesne University and after the Armistice was a Knights of Columbus athletic director in France. He went to St. Paulo, Brazil, three years ago as a pioneer in amateur sports in South America, engaged as athletic director for the Club Athletico Paulistano to teach Brazilian youth the science and benefit of American athletic methods.

The prospect was not too encouraging when he arrived. The only sport practiced by Brazilians at the time was soccer football, promoted by clubs and conducted in much the same way as bush-league baseball at home. Track and field athletics were unknown except through the movies. Scholars and universities had no athletic recreations, and men never indulged in competitive running for fun except at picnics, as at home, when a keg of beer used to be the prize.

Football Enthusiasts

The only encouraging sign was the enthusiasm of the people over football, but football is a game not too well suited to the moderate climate of Brazil. Hogarty set out to develop a similar interest in athletics that would better build up the youth of the land. A formidable undertaking where the games were not understood or appreciated, and where the spirit of competitive play was equally as foreign.

After three years he has brought eight of his best men to the Olympic games. He wanted to bring more, but funds were lacking for the long journey. He is aware these men may not break any world's records, but he is confident they will do well, and certain that they will learn much that will promote athletics more speedily when they get home.

Brazilian Records

Alvaro Ribeiro is a sprinter who can do the 100 metres in 10 4-5 and the 200 in 22 1-5. Narciso Costa does the 400 metres in 51 2-5, and he also runs the 800 metres well. Alfredo Gomes, whom Hogarty calls a dark horse and one of the most promising athletes of Brazil, is a fine cross country runner, and does all middle distance in fast time. Eurico Freitas can beat French records in the high jump and pole vault. Willy Scowald is record man of South America in the javelin throw and Octavo Zani holds the South American record with the hammer. Scowald's best mark is 56.88 metres. Jose Galimberti is a shot-putter. In the high hurdles will appear A. J. Byington, that's too far, I'll get all tuckered out. It took some driving at first, but they were quick to learn, and now they get out on the track and go through their paces like a bunch of American college boys. Slowly but surely, Brazil is developing into an athletic country.

Hogarty has been able to build a fine 400-metre track at St. Paulo and interest in athletic contests is growing.

WHAT'S THE USE?

The most futile thing in the world is to hunt over the house for a lead pencil. Even if you find it, which is doubtful, it will not have a point on it.

Runners Developing
"The first time I told a boy to run 8,000 metres," Hogarty said, "he looked to me and said, 'O, no, I can't do that.'"

Clothing Prices Up 14 Per Cent

The cost of clothing of the average family has increased 14 per cent in the last two years, according to the National Industrial Conference Board, which recently made a nation-wide study of apparel prices. The board also found that clothing prices had gone up 76 per cent since 1914, but were 36 per cent lower than they were at the price peak of March, 1920. The estimates were based on "a fair grade of inexpensive merchandise usually purchased by families in moderate circumstances." Figures for this study were furnished by 194 dealers in 80 cities.
